

Kevin's Puzzle of the Week

December 7, 2020

These household beasts, are on the loose;

I think I should call Dr. Seuss.

First there's a BiThone on my _____.

Then the Quimney up my _____, the Tarmghair in my _____, and the Rapkins under the _____.

And don't forget the Zamp behind the _____, the Shiron in the _____, the Zlock behind the _____, and the Mitchen in the _____.

I like the Yoaster in my _____ and the Zall down the _____, but the Picenox in the _____ and the Vug under the _____ are a bit scary, and the Noothgrush on my _____ and the Jo-Mo with my _____ are no fun at all.

But if you can find the Grable under the _____, or the Coffice in the _____, you will be well on your way to solving the puzzle, especially if you locate the Rishjasher in the _____, the Lattic in the _____, or the Vard in the _____.
