

Kevin's Puzzle of the Week

Somebody That I Used to Know

I thought he was only a fairy tale.

She ran out of food for both herself and her dog.

He wanted a free pie sample, but was denied it due to lack of money.

At 10 pm, he checks to make sure all the kids are in bed.

Somehow grows seashells, bells, and girls in her garden?

Big fan of cottage cheese; spiders, not so much.

This shepherd had to learn to let her sheep find their own way home.

Joyous man with three violinists.

Il s'est réveillé en retard.

He stole the queen's tarts and was punished for it.

He failed to warn the village that the livestock were in the fields.

Have you met this baker who lives in London?

He and his wife together ate a balanced diet.

A puzzle too difficult for either men or steeds.

He snatched a swine and fled.

All the animals on his farm have something to say.

He and his men ascended and decended.

He was very proud of himself for locating a fruit in his pie.

A reminder to try the climb again when conditions improve.
